Introduction & Summary

When you port a number, you transfer an existing phone number from one telco provider to another. The process allows you to switch providers while keeping all your same phone numbers.

Whether you want to port mobile numbers, your business landlines, international phone numbers or even freephone numbers and inbound services, number porting allows you to easily transfer an existing phone number from one provider to another in a few steps.

This document is correct as of February 2024. Porting is controlled and managed by legislation within the country concerned own domain.

This document is designed to give you an overview of the different countries requirements and local document needs such as a The SIRET number is mandatory on the LOA in France and a PIN number in the USA.

Lead times

Lead times for all EMEA ports are dependent on the regulatory requirements in the country of port and the responsiveness of the suppliers in the chain. The process is also dependent on the accuracy of the information provided. We will always keep you advised of progress.

Note: On the day of transfer, you will experience some loss of service to incoming calls during the port activation window while the numbers are being ported from the losing supplier. Porting can take place sooner or later than the lead times quoted.

United Kingdom

Porting in the UK takes an average of 30 business days, we can port sooner or later than this.

South Africa

Porting usually takes an average of 45 days from the day of LOA submission to the losing carrier.

EMEA

Average lead time is 30 to 60 business days. This may also depend on any contractual obligations with your losing provider. We can port sooner or later than this.

With all porting, it is advisable to plan and minimise change requests to your port dates to reduce the risk of numbers porting when you are not ready since some countries/ carriers cannot accept date change requests.

Additional requirements

Singapore

- Only Fixed Line Numbers (+656xx) are portable as per a general rule.
- Signed and stamped LOA must be correctly filled (matching donor's records) and dated within the last 35 working days including the date you submit the porting request.
- If a company stamp is unavailable, provide a company letter with company letter head explaining why the company stamp is not available.
- File a copy of ARCA Business Registration Certificate is required and must be included when requesting a number port.

Note: Unique Entity Number (UEN) or Business Registration Number (BRN) is a 9- or 10-digit identification number that the government issues in Singapore to all entities that operate within the country and must be included when filling out the LOA.

- Partial porting (not porting all your numbers) may be supported but this depends on the agreement between your service provider and yourself, which needs to be arranged before the porting is requested. Because of the local regulations and the way numbers are allocated, porting is rarely supported.
- A target port date when submitting your port request and must be between 20-25 business days from the day you submitted the order.

Note: Your provider will inform you about the port-out activity and will require your approval to proceed.

- We can easily cancel or re-schedule your port request up until the time when the port date has been scheduled. Once a port date has been scheduled cancellation or re-scheduling of port becomes more complex and riskier because the service providers involved may have already begun configuring your phone number. The further we are in the process when you decide to cancel or re-schedule, the less likely it is that we will be able to cancel successfully or re-schedule or re-schedule the port.
- Please let us know at least (5) five working days prior to the scheduled day if you wish to cancel or re-schedule an already accepted port order. Note: This will be a best effort basis only.

Australia

Numbers can be ported in blocks or split up. If your current provider informs us that numbers are in blocks and need to port as such, but you do not want to keep them or add additional licenses for them, let us know five working days before or after the port completes which numbers you would like to keep. The remaining numbers will be returned to the provider and can no longer be retrieved once executed.

Hong Kong

File copy of Hong Kong Business Registration Certificate is required and must be included when requesting a number port.

Notes:

Business Registration Number must be included when filling the LOA.

Signature in the LOA should not be more than 30 days old.

- Partial porting (not porting all your numbers) is not supported.
- We can easily cancel or re-schedule your port request up until the time when the port date has been scheduled. Once a port date has been scheduled, cancellation or re-scheduling of the port becomes more complex and riskier because the service providers involved may have already begun configuring your phone number. The further we are in the process when you decide to cancel or re-schedule, the less likely it is that we will be able to cancel successfully or re-schedule the port.
- Please let us know at least four (4) working days prior to the scheduled day if you wish to cancel or reschedule an already accepted port order. Note: This will be on a best-effort basis only.

Time frame

Time frames for all APAC ports are dependent on the regulatory requirements in the country of port and the responsiveness of the suppliers in the chain. The process is also reliant on the accuracy of the information provided. We will always keep you advised as the order progresses.

Note: On the day of transfer, you may experience some loss of service to incoming calls during the port activation window while the numbers are being ported from the old carrier. Porting can take place sooner or later than the lead times quoted.

Singapore

- Porting time frame may take up to 20 business days.
- Porting activation starts at a fixed time window Monday to Friday 2–4pm SGT (porting window is 0–2 hours but can be extended depending on

Australia

- Porting time frame may take up to 10 weeks (dependent on order quantity and complexity).
- Porting activation starts at a fixed time window Monday to Friday (porting window is 1 hour but can be extended depending on complexity).
- Simple Port (CAT-A) - 10:00-11:00am Sydney
- Complex Port (CAT-C) - Timeslots provided upon port confirmation.

New Zealand

- Porting time frame may take up to 15 business days (dependent on order quantity and complexity).
